

Partnership Assessment Worksheet

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
State Early Childhood Advisory Councils The councils are meant to provide state coordination and collaboration among all of the early childhood stakeholders to improve education and quality.
Regulation/Licensing Regulations and licensing agencies have authority to make changes to the policies governing ECE in the state and to enforce those policies. Visit www.nrckids.org to download current regulations for your state. See how well obesity prevention is included in your state's ECE regulations by reviewing the most recent "Achieving a State of Healthy Weight" annual report at: http://nrckids.org/index.cfm/products/achieving-a-state-of-healthy-weight1/ .

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS) A statewide system to assess and improve quality of ECE services operates in about 25 states; the remaining states are developing one. Such systems are typically tiered and may have incentives associated with each tier.
Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) These grants to states from the Office of Child Care, a division of the Administration of Children and Families (ACF), provide subsidies to families for ECE. Each state must use some of the funds for quality support and technical assistance.	Visit: http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/occ/resource/ccdf-grantee-state-and-territory-contacts to find your state's CCDF contact.
Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) TANF, administered to states through the Office of Family Assistance (OFA), a division of ACF, provides cash assistance and training for low-income unemployed adults. States have the option to transfer up to 30 percent of TANF funds to the Child Care Development Fund. More information: http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofa/programs/tanf

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) CACFP is administered to states through the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), a division of the USDA. CACFP provides funding to reimburse ECE programs for meals and snacks served to low-income children. The federal program sets nutrition guidelines that must be met to receive reimbursement. Some state programs set higher standards. http://www.fns.usda.gov/cacfp/child-and-adult-care-food-program	Find the name of your state CACFP director at: www.fns.usda.gov/cnd/contacts/statedirectory.htm .
Head Start and Early Head Start The federal Office of Head Start provides grants to local public and private non-profit and for-profit agencies to provide comprehensive child development services to economically disadvantaged children and families.	Visit http://eclkc.ohs.acf.hhs.gov/hslc/states/collaboration to find your state's Head Start State Collaboration Office.
Tribal Child Care Development Fund (CCDF) and Tribal Head Start Tribes receive Head Start and Tribal CCDF funds separate from states. Tribes may operate their programs differently.	Find regional Tribal CCDF contacts at: https://childcare.gov/resources/tribal-ccdf-contacts-state .

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
Early Learning Standards/Foundations Early Learning Standards come from state departments of education and address the needs of infants, toddlers and preschoolers. http://www.ed.gov/early-learning
State Pre-K Programs are typically administered through the state's department of education and provide education programs to 4-year-olds. The programs may be located in schools and fall under the jurisdiction of school districts.
Birth to 3/Early Intervention Programs To find your state contact for early intervention services, visit: http://www.nectac.org/contact/ptccoord.asp .
Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems Grants These grants to state health departments come from the Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB), a division of the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). The grants are intended to help states form collaboratives to implement the Strategic Plan for Early Childhood Health developed in 2002. More information: http://eccs.hrsa.gov/index.htm .

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies (CCR&Rs) These state agencies provide training and support for ECE providers as well as refer families to ECE programs. CCR&Rs have a national association body, Child Care Aware of America, which advocates for quality ECE at the national level. www.childcareaware.org
Vocational Schools, Community Colleges and Universities These institutions provide degrees and education credits for certification, as well as continuing education to ECE providers in each state.
Cooperative Extension Service These programs operate out of the land-grant universities funded by the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA), a division of the USDA. Cooperative Extension conducts research, education and extension programs that increase the quantity and quality of ECE, afterschool and teen out-of-school programs. Many cooperative extension offices provide training directly to ECE providers and staff to improve nutrition and physical activity behaviors. More information: http://www.csrees.usda.gov/Extension/ .

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) Child Care State Chapter The AAP has appointed a Chapter Child Care Contact (CCCC) in each of its state chapters. http://www.healthychildcare.org/cccc.html
Child Care Health Consultants (CCHCs) Child Care Health Consultants are health professionals once supported by federally funded networks to operate in all states. A few states still support CCHCs.
State and County Registration/Certification Systems for ECE Providers
Professional Associations for ECE Providers and Administrators; Organizations Representing Family Child Care Providers
Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Visit http://www.fns.usda.gov/wic/contacts/statealpha.HTM to find your state WIC agency.
Foundations and Health Care Organizations; Health Care Providers

Potential Key Early Care and Education (ECE) Stakeholders	What agency administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's priorities? Any related to obesity prevention?	Is the agency doing anything about obesity prevention? Is it part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency? What issues need to be addressed?
Federal Grants Focused On or Including the ECE Setting (e.g., "Race to the Top Early Learning Challenge", etc.)
Others in Your State*

Potential Key Obesity Prevention Stakeholders	What agency or organization administers the program? Who are the executive leaders?	Are you already working with them?	What are the agency's or organization's priorities? Any related to the ECE setting?	Do any activities involve the ECE setting? Are they part of an existing coalition?	Opportunities to leverage resources? Readiness to become involved?	Challenges or barriers to working with this agency or organization? What issues will need to be addressed?
State or Community-Level Obesity Prevention or Health/Wellness Grantees Seek grantees with funding that allows for initiatives targeting the ECE setting (e.g., CDC and USDA grants).
State SNAP-Ed Program SNAP-Ed funds can be used to target the ECE setting. See http://snap.nal.usda.gov/snap/SNAP-EdInterventionsToolkit.pdf for details.

State Parks and Recreation Programs
Governor's Council/Task Force on Health, Healthy Lifestyle or Obesity Prevention
Others in Your State*

 Other agencies and organizations to consider engaging as partners in ECE obesity prevention opportunities:

- Departments of child and family services
- County and city health departments
- Labor and workforce development agencies
- State chapters of the Division for Early Childhood (http://www.dec-sped.org/Contact/Subdivision_Contacts)
- Organizations serving children with special medical needs
- Organizations serving migrant and other underserved populations
- ECE advocacy and support networks
- ECE improvement and family support networks
- ECE information clearinghouses
- Family resource centers
- Cooperative educational services
- Child maltreatment prevention organizations
- Community libraries
- News media